Consultancy to Conduct Capacity-Building Workshops on TFSGBV for Women's Organizations- Tamil Language

1. Profile of CEJ

The Centre for Equality and Justice (CEJ) was established as a company limited by guarantee in late 2017. CEJ's mission is the achievement of gender justice so that men and women and persons with diverse Sexual Orientation, Gender Identity and Expression, and Sex Characteristics (SOGIESC) live in a society that is free, just, and equal. This will be achieved by promoting gender equality, advancing the rule of law, good governance and democratic principles, promoting women's advancement and economic empowerment, advocating for the commitment to international human rights standards and fostering partnerships with grassroots-level women's networks. CEJ is primarily a women's organization working on the rights of women in the private and public spheres. CEJ engages with policymakers and government officers and strengthens grassroots-level women's capacities to claim their rights.

2. Project Background/Context

Between January and August 2022, in Sri Lanka, 60.25% of cyber violence was directed towards women. In a rapid assessment by CEJ, participants in stakeholder interviews from Anuradhapura, Batticaloa and Kilinochchi ranked 'young girls' as the target group associated with the highest prevalence of TFSGBV. The findings indicated that women human rights defenders, women undergraduates, and persons of diverse SOGIESC were particularly at risk. Moreover, another study reported instances of TFSGBV, rising to 16,376 incidents in 2020, which marked a staggering 460% increase compared to 2019. This trend underscores the urgent need for targeted interventions and support to address the specific vulnerabilities affected by these specific groups. In the context of COVID-19, Data Reportal shows social media users increased by 1.5 million (23%) in Sri Lanka between 2020 and 2021. This increase in usage correlates with increased incidents of TFSGBV, as low rates of digital literacy mean youth are more susceptible to incidents of violence.

A study published in 2017 on young, educated Sri Lankan men's perceptions of violence against women indicated that the gendered nature of TFSGBV in Sri Lanka reflects the deeply entrenched patriarchal norms and misogynistic ideology that result in structural inequalities and violence against women and girls. A noticeable gap is the lack of research on the intersection of disability, gender and TFSGBV. There is no streamlined or standardised response mechanism to TFSGBV in Sri Lanka. Though a complaint can be placed with the Sri Lanka Police, and support services such as legal aid and psychosocial support can be obtained, these services are inadequate to provide survivor-centric and gender-sensitive support. Additionally, there are no legal provisions in the Sri Lankan law that expressly cover TFSGBV as an offence, though laws such as S.345 of the Penal Code may be interpreted to include TFSGBV, and the 2023 Anti-Corruption Act includes TFSGBV as a form of sexual bribery.

In this context, the project, Digital Dystopia: A Holistic Approach to Addressing Technology Facilitated Sexual and Gender Based Violence (TFSGBV) aims to make services and response mechanisms to cases of TFSGBV accessible and effective for all women, including women from marginalized communities such as women from ethnic and language minorities and women with disabilities, and persons of diverse SOGIESC in target districts of Kilinochchi,

Batticaloa, Anuradhapura, Puttalam and Galle, and ensure service providers are equipped with the necessary knowledge, sensitivities and skills to provide support to victim-survivors of TFSGBV.
